

12:05 p.m. – 12:40 p.m. (Includes 5-minute Q&A)	Bringing Mesenchymal Stromal Cells to the Clinic Katarina Le Blanc, MD, PhD Professor of Clinical Stem Cell Research, Karolinska Institute Mattias Bernow, MD CEO, Cellcolabs Professor Katarina Le Blanc discuss her research and findings around the safety and efficacy of Mesenchymal Stromal Cells (MSCs), why we must bridge the gap between research and industry, and how to bring high-quality cells to the clinic. Afterwards, Dr. Mattias Bernow elaborates on how Cellcolabs plans to enhance global healthcare and human healthspan by driving down the costs of high-quality stromal cells and longevity therapies through large-scale production of MSCs.
12:40 p.m. – 1:05 p.m. (Includes 5-minute Q&A)	Immunoaging in Regenerative Medicines: Cost-Effective Technology Pranela Rameshwar, BS, PhD Professor of Medicine at Rutgers New Jersey Medical School Dr. Rameshwar discusses the clinical translation of innovations with affordable technologies developed at Rutgers University, with promising early evidence of valid clinical and wellness endpoints.
1:05 p.m. – 1:15 p.m.	Letters from the Future: Questions from STEM Youth (HEALinc Bridging-the-Future Program)
1:15 p.m. – 2:00 p.m.	Interactive Lunch & Learn Our Interactive Lunches feature small presentations and/or talks alongside a complimentary mid-day meal. Delegates grab lunch and return to the Main Auditorium for “Lunch & Learn” Interactive Panel. * Regenerative Futures and Regulatory Considerations Whole-Person and Whole-System Action Panel on Connecting the Dots Between Healthy Longevity, Regulators, Regenerative Medicine and the Clinic. Chair: Dr. Charles Diggiss (President, DHHS; Surgeon and Entrepreneur) Panelists: Professor Mike Chan (Scientist/ Entrepreneur), Mike Druckman (FDA Lawyer), Bill Faloon (Advocate, Pioneer), Professor Pranela Rameshwar (Scientist), Dr. Evan Snyder (Clinician/Scientist), and Dr. Steve Gerst (Investor)
2:00 p.m. – 2:05 p.m.	Five for Five: 5 Takeaways in 5 Minutes
2:05 p.m. – 2:20 p.m.	The Art of the Look Back: How to Reduce Your Taxes by 50% Christopher Gandy, LACP Expanding on areas of individual and corporate life insurance, income optimization, investments and tax reduction strategies, Chris outlines his 22+ years of experience in helping individuals reach their most important financial goals and transform their dream lifestyles into concrete realities.